Cases for the Year Ending 06-30-19 - PART III LINE 4A (CONTINUED)	Citizens for Quality Education-San Diego, et al., v. San Diego Unified School District, et. al. On May 24, 2017, FCDF filed a federal civil rights lawsuit on behalf of a group of concerned parents against the San Diego Unified School District (SDUSD) challenging the constitutionality of the districts controversial Anti-Islamophobia program. Named defendants a Iso include every member of SDUSDs Board of Education and Superintendent Cynthia Marten. In addition to six parents, FCDF is representing Citizens for Quality Education-San Diego (CQE-SD), a local grassroots organization dedicated to public school reform, and the San Diego Asian Americans for Equality (SDAAFE), which defends the interests of the Asian Americ an community and promotes active involvement in public affairs SDUSDs Board of Education a provided an Anti-Islamophobia initiative in a purported effort to combat bullying and haras sment of Muslim students and their families. As part of the initiative, Muslim students will be provided with special religious accommodations, teachers must receive new training and resources on how to advocate for Muslims, and the school district must review and vet its curriculum to ensure that it promotes a positive interpretation of Muslim culture and history Most controversially, the school district explore and engage in formal partnerships with the Council on American-Islamic Relations (CAIR), a self-described Muslim civil rights organization. Students of other faiths are excluded from this program, including Jewish students, who statistically face an overwhelmingly higher level of bullying and discrimination than do Muslims The School District, with over 125,000 students enrolled in its K-12 schools, received just seven reports of religion-motivated bullying from July 31, 2016, to December 31, 2016. The district did not disclose how many of those incidents were directed at Muslim students FCDF filed the complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California. It asked the Court to decl

The Human Capital Projects findings spurred numerous state and federal investigations into fetal it is sue procurement companies and abortion providers. It also caused over a dozen states and the United States Congress to vote to withdraw taxpayer funding from the abortion provider Planned Parenthood In that same month, the National Abortion Federation (NAF) filed suit against the Center for Medical Progress, David Daleiden, BioMax Procurement Services, LLC and Troy Newmana former board member. FCDF is not representing Mr. Newman who has retained separate counsel. NAF is a trade group for abortion providers. It successfully sought an injunction preventing the Center for Medical Progress from releasing videos regarding NAF conferences. FCDF appealed the order granting that preliminary injunction, which was upheled at the Ninth Circuit. FCDF betitioned for certiforaria at the United States Supreme Court, but that petition was denied. When the mandate issued from the Ninth Circuit, FCDF began preparing to respond to the complaint NAF requested that the District Court permit it to file an early motion for summary judgment solely with respect to its contract claim (upon which the preliminary injunction is predicated), but that request was denied. In response, NAF dismissed the majority of its claims, leaving only a few state-law tort claims. FCDF responded to the complaint by filing an anti-SLAPP motion. At the same time, FCDF filed a motion to dismiss the complaint, including for lack of diversity jurisdiction. FCDF further filed a motion to dissolve the preliminary injunction on th

This suit was filed soon after Congress voted to withdraw federal funding from Planned Parenthood as a result of the Human Capital Project. In response to the complaint, FCDF filed a motion to dismiss it along with an anti-SLAPP motion to strike it. This ose motions were denied and appealed to the Ninth Circuit, which affirmed them. FCDF filed a petition for a writ of certification of the Supreme Court, but that petition was rejected. After the case returned to the District Court, FCDF continued litigating it, and litigating numerous discovery disputes. In the first half of 2019, FCDF led a team of nearly a dozien law firms to take all of the needed depositions, and draft the summary judgment papers. The tentative ruling on the summary judgment motions is very favorable, and FCDF is now preparing the case for trial. Trial is set to begin on September 30, 2019. The public interest is being served by protecting freedom of conscience California. V. David Daleiden and California v. Susan Merritt On April 5, 2016, the California Attorney General raided Mr. Dal eidens home seizing all of CMPs undercover video footage related to its work on the Human Capital Project. Since that time, Mr. Daleiden and Ms. Merritt were charged by the California Attorney General with fourteen felony counts of unlawful recording in violation of Pen. Code 633, and one count of conspiracy to unlawfully record FCDF is assisting independently retained criminal defense counsel as needed. After several delays due to petitions for writs of mandate, including a temporary stay by the California Supreme Court, a preliminar ry hearing is now set for September 2019. The public interest is being served by protecting freedom of conscience. Jane Does 1-10 v. The University of Washington, Perry Tapper, and David Daleiden In August 2016, a group of ten Jane and John Does filed a class action complaint seeking to force the University of Washington to not comply with Mr. Daleidens public records request. As a result, she informed them that she could not create the custom art, and that instead she would be referring their requested commission to another cake artist. That same day, the Rodrig uez-Del Rios began publicizing the encounter on social media, and it garnered widespread mieda attentionincluding with the offer from other wedding professionals to provide service sifee of charge. As a result, the Department of Fair Employment and Housing (DFEH) began investigating Ms. Miller and brought an action against her on December 14, 2018. On February 5, 2018, the Court denied the DFEHs request for a preliminary injunction, and later enteired a final judgment in Ms. Millers favor on May 1, 2018. The DFEH then argued that its request for a preliminary injunction was a unique special proceeding, and so it was not bound by the Courts order and retained the ability to investigate Ms. Miller in an administrative proceeding. FCDF filed a motion to enforce the judgment by limiting the DFEHs investig ation. That motion was granted, but then stayed following a petition for writ of mandate to Californias Fifth District Court of Appeal. The DFEH then began a new action that FCDF is defending against. Discovery is proceeding. The new action is set for trial in June 2020. The public interest is being served by protecting freedom of conscience Skyline Wesleyan Church v. California Department of Managed Healthcareln August 2014, the California Depart ment of Managed Healthcareln (CDMH) issued a mandate requiring all group health insurance pl ans in California to provide coverage for all legal abortions, including voluntary and elective abortions. Previously, organizations that did not want to provide insurance coverage for voluntary abortions could simply purchase health insurance that did not provide for it. This included numerous churches, non-profits, and othe
